+.--VALENTINE'S DAY .- The rolling year mirth makers and scribblers, who have for once unbridled license to deluge the mails with wood cuts and droll verses, which they intend as hits at or satires upon unfortunates. The sentimental perod of Valentines has long past and the grossly comical, if not vulgar one, has to a large extent usurped its place. Therefore the carieatures that ornament shop waidows, and whose purchase delights the small boys and their elders. Thus it is that what was once a delightful and most innocently pleasant occasion has degenerated into a time of license. Most of the missives go to those who laugh at them but not a few reach those who are hurt by their receipt. If the days of the really comic valentine could come back things would be better.

DEATH OF MRS. F. H. CAMERON. After an illness of some length, Mrs. Maggie Haywood Cameron, wife of Maj. F. H. Cameron, died in this city yesterday morning. She was the daughter of the late Hon. The counties which drew were: Stokes, $600; Montgomery. $333 33; Caldwell, $200; Surry, $100; Macon, $87.23; Caswell, $68.88 Here is an ontgo in these bard times and it is no wonder this momentous matter was so strongly and lengthily discussed in the House yesterday. Is the Pope Superstittous?

From a Foreign Exchange One morning Leo XIII, was about to eat some raw eggs, as it is his wont every morning, and requested Commander Sterbini, the gentleman serving him, to bring him some salt to take with them. Sterbini, presenting the salt on a solid silver tray, accidentally let it slip from his hands, and the salt fell, but only on the table. The Pope rose immediately, carefully looking to see whether any of the grains had reached the ground. "Only see," he said, "the salt is upset, and, had it fallen on the ground, I believe I should not have got over it to-day." He then took out a pocket-book and noted the fact, observing, at the same time, "that we shall see whether we shall not have the loss of some beloved cardinal to deplore before long." Nine days after the sad news of Cardinal Asquini's death reached the Vatican, and the Pope, handing to Sterbini his pecketbook, requeted him to read aloud to those around the note he had made nine days before, Then breaking the silence he said: "Had the salt been scattered upon the floor instead of upon the table, as was the case, verily I believe I should be standing now before the Judgment Seat."

SPECIAL ORDER. The hour having arrived for the special order, which was a bill to abilish the Geological Survey of North Carolina, it wastaken up. The bill provides that all property and informa-tion belonging to said office shall be turned over to the Agricultural Depart-

This bill was one of great importance and interest, as was evidenced by the crowded loby and the utmost interest and attention paid the Sona- reason that the State was bound to tors during the debate, which was a lengthy one. Mr. Dortch was opposed to the bill.

He favored retrenchment and reform, but thought the Senate was ac ing too has ily in this matter. Mr. Everit strongly opposed the bill. Mr. Merritt spoke in opposition to the bill and in tayor of the survey. He offered the following substitute. TAX FEES OF ATTORNEYS.

The special order, bill to abelish the tax fees of attorneys charged in bills of costs in civil suits in any courts of the State, was taken up. The substitute offered by Mr. Vaughan, which was somewhat discussed yesterday, was first acted on. The substitute abrogates all laws requiring tax fees in any courts of own to the Probate Court, except in case a norm is wrongfulle.

Wrong should be properly righted.

Mr Jones read the constitution in regard to the matter. He had desired postponement that he might proque statistics, but would now endeavor to prove that the law on the subject was just and right. He then read the minority report and detected flaws in its verbiage which militated against its force. He said the State should not bear impartiality towards any of her down to the Probate Court, except in bear impartiality towards any of ber case a man is wrongfully forced into citizens. But while this was a fact it con the is to be reunbursed by the arty was not right to turn out those upon who does him the wrong. Mr. Mebane thought the amendment not fair in some of its provisions, but favored the original bill, as it took away upon terms of perfect equality. Is a attorneys to which they were not en-titled. The law was in ended to correct Mr. Atkinson said the proposition

Mr. Vaughan called the previous question upon his substitute. This was then lost by a vote of 52 to 22.

Mr. Cooke offered an amendment that there shall be taxed by clarks of Superior Courts in all civil actions 33, to be held as a fund for the benefit of jucois. Mr. Cooke made remains on the propriety of taxing costs in the way and for the purposes named. He and for the purposes named. He thought a man who unjustly fore s another into court should be made to pay for such conduct. In his opinion this amendment would aid counties very largely in paying jorors. Messra.

Mrs Cooke's an endment was then lost by a vote of 61 to 35, the ayes and nays being called by Mr. Vaughan.
The bill t en passed its second and third readings.

DRAF-MUTES, BLIND AND INSANS. Bill to amend the constitution of the State as to the support of indiget deafmutes, blind and insane, so that it will read that these unfortunates "may" be provided for at State expense. There were submitted majority and minority reports, the latter recommending that the word "shali," as at present, be not changed.

Mr. Clarke favored the minority report, as taking from successive Logisla- ago. tures the right to change what should be unalterably fixed in the constituti in. He was opposed to any change for the support or to educate these here unfor-tunate children. Mr. Bost said the only change was the addition of the word indigent, and the substitution of "may" for "shall." It is wise to make this, because it will allow the counties to provide for the support of these people. This he thought just and proper, and there ore avoied the maori y report.

Mr. Jones moved to indefinitely nostpone the whole matter. This bill or something similar, was one of the con-stitution of amendments proposed in 1872, and it was shown then and can be now that it works a hardship to the agricultural survey of the State, and to amend sec. 14, last line, so that it degenerated almost into a private isstitution, while poor unfortunates were confined in juls in their counties. Indigent insane of this State had been reto abolish the survey, as was also Mr. fused admission to the asylum, while paying patients from Georgia and South Carolina were admitted. Mr. substitute, and occupied some time of Norment said under the amendment proposed by the minority report, the asylum would not be bound to take care of any deaf and dumb, blind or posed to the bill, and their speeches insane, save those "indigent." Mr. elicited much feeling and attention. Jones asked if under no circumstances Mr Davidson submitted a substitute a rich person should get in the asylum to the substitute offered by Mr. Mer- by paying the charges. THE amendment appended to the army appropriation bill by the House, on motion of Beast Butler, provides that telegrams may be transmitted by railroad companies which may have telegraph lines, for the government and for the general public, at rates to be fixed by the government according to the provisions of title 65 Revised Statutes. It is in effect similar to the telegraph bill of Senator Jones, of Florida, now pending in the Senate. The intention of the Senate bill, as well as the amendment offered by Butler, is to authorize railroad companies to connect their lines and transact a general business in transmitting telegraphic dispatches at rates to be fixed by the government. It is said the feeling in both houses in favor of this measure, particularly on the Democratic side, is very strong.

A New Way to Pay Old Debts.

The plan adopted by the city of Memphis to avoid the payment of her debt by asking for and obtaining a repeal of her charter, so as to be rendered incapable of levying a city tax, at the instance of h r creditors, is creating universal comment. The debt is for five million dollars, the payment of which was being strenuously urged, and which the citizens declared themselves unable to pay, whereupon, at their own request, the Legislature came to their assistance in the manner and with the object above mentioned.

But the interesting question here arises. Can a municipal corporation get rid of a five million dollar debt in this summary manner? If it can, no doubt many cities in the country who are, as they imagine, hopelessly involved, will probably try the same remedy. There is some doubt, however, as to the efficacy of the plan, inasmuch as it has been before this unsuccessfully attempted in the following

Several years ago Washington City was an incorporated municipality with a debt of $22,000,000. Things did not go well with it, and Congress, with the approval of the tax payers, took away its clarter, and placed the government of it in the hands of three commissioners; but this did not 1id the people of their debt. It remains until this day, and will, no doubt, continue to remain until the last dollar of it shall have been paid. A few years ago the city of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, attempted to evade payment of its debt by forfeiting its charter through non-user; but the United States Court asserted its power to levy and collect taxes to pay its judgments through its own Marshal, and it was preparing to do this when the citizens agreed to save it and themselves the trouble by levying and collecting them through the local machines Arrears of Pensions.

To Hon, A. M. Scales, we are indebted for the full text of the bill granting arrears of pensions. If read carefully in connection with the suggestions appended a great deal of unnecessary correspondence will be saved: Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all pensions which have been granted under the general laws regulating pensions, or may hereafter be granted, in consequence of death from a cause which originated in the United States service during the continuance of the late war of the rebellion, or in consequence of wounds, injuries, or disease received or contracted in said service during said war of the rebellion, shall commence from the date of the death or discharge from said service of the person on whose account the claim has been or shall hereafter be granted, or from the termination of the right of the party having prior title to such pension:-Provided The rate of pension for the intervening time for which arrears of pension are hereby granted shall be the same per month for which the pension was orige nally granted.

SEC. 2. That the Commissioner of Pensions is hereby authorized and dis rected to adopt such rules and regulaessary to cause to be paid to such pensioners, or, if the pensioners shall have died, to the person or persons entitled to the same, all such arrears of pension as the pensioner may be, or would have been, entitled to under this Act.

SEC. 3. That section forty-seven hundred and seventeen of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which provides that "no claim for pension not prosecuted to a successful issue within five years from the date of filing the same shall be admitted without record evidence from the War or Navy Department of the injury or the disease which resulted in the disability or death of the person on whose account the claim is made:-Provided, That in any case in which the limitation prescribed by this section bars the further prosecution of the claim, the claimant may present, through the Pension Office, to the Adjutant General of the Army or the Surgeon General of the Navy, evidence that the disease or injury which resulted in the disability or death of the person on whose account the claim is made originated in the service and in the line of duty; and if such evidence is deemed satisfactory by the officer to whom it may be submitted, he shall cause a record of the fact so proved to be made, and a copy of the ted by a commissioner to be appointed same to be transmitted to the Com- by the court and to belong to a different missioner of Pensions, and the bar to the prosecution of the claim shall thereby be removed," be, and the same is hereby, repealed.

SEC. 4. No claim agent or other person shall be entitled to receive any compensation for services in making application for arrears of pension.

SEC. 5. That all Acts or parts of Acts so far as they may conflict with the provisions of this Act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Approved, January 25, 1879.

No claim for arrears under the provisions of the above Act, due to a pensioner already upon the rolls, will be adjusted until Congress shall have appropriated the money for the payment fore the law. Senator Th rman was of such claim.

Applications for such arrears may however be filed-but will receive no answer until the claim is adjusted.

Democratic Policy. Washington Post, 11th. The caucus immediately proceeded to consider the vexed questions, which were pending at the last meeting, which was the subject of incorporating in the appropriation bills a clause re-pealing the test oaths to jurors and the election laws providing for supervisors and marshals of elections, and the manner of drawing jurors in the United States courts. Several propositions were introduced on this subject, and provoked animated. discussions, which were participated in by Senators Thurman, Bayard, Kernan. Gordon, Hill, and Representatives Blackburn, who left the chair for the purpose, Herbert, of Alabama; Cox, of New York; Atkins, of Tennessee; Southard, of Ohio; Reagen, of Texas, and others. The first proposition adopted was that moved by Mr. Waddell, of North Carolina, to the effect that there be added to the legislative, executive and judi-cial appropriation bill, now pending in the House, a provision repealing sections 820 and 821 of the Revised Statutes. This was carried unanimously, Section 820 provides what shall be the disqualification and cause of challenge of grand and petit jurors in the United States courts. These are taking up of arms against the United States in the late rebellion, giving it aid and comfort, in giving directly or indirectly any assistance in money, arms, horses, clothing, or anything whatever for the use or benefit of any person or persons who participated in the rebellion. These and others equally stringent are provided as cause of challenge and disqualification of jurors in United States courts. Section 821 provides an addiions for the payment of the arrears of tional oath to be taken by the grand pensions hereby granted as will be nec. and petit jurors, to the effect that they will support the Constitution of the United States, and that they have not taken up arms against the United States in the late rebellion, or given it aid or comfort, have not directly or indirectly given any assistance in any money or in any other thing to any other person whom they knew had joined or were about to join in rebellion, or resisted or were about to resist the execution of laws of the United States, and that they have not counseled or advised any person to join insurrection or rebellion. It further provides that any person declining to take that oath shall be discharged by the court from serving on the grand and petit jury, to which they have been summoned. The clause repealing these two sections will be attached to the legislative appropriation bill, the principal passage which will depend upon the acceptance of the repealing of the section by the Republicans and Mr. Hayes. It is believed by the Democratic members that the Republicans will concede to the repeal of these two obnoxious sections, as they virtually exclude the inelligent portions of the Southern peo. ole from jury service. But the caucus did not stop here. Senator Thurman moved that the Demcratic members of the House on the Judiciary committee be instructed to prepare a provision to so modify section 800 of the Revised Statutes in relation to the choosing of grand and petit jurors in the United States courts as to provide that the clerk of the court should select onelerk belonged, the number of jurors to be selected by two and to be not less than 300, to be placed in a box, and names of the grand and petit jurors. This provision was opposed by Senator

Hill upon the ground that it would be unavailing, as the court could appoint such a Democrat as would co-operate officials of the court. Something more loudly applauded. Senator Bayard opposed legislation on the subject, and referred to the fact that the Republi-that the Democratic party ought not to place itself in a like attitude before the

There are some eight or more highly important matters that require attention, and we begin to fear that the session will end without some of these, if not all, being properly considered. There are but twenty-six days left, and in that time they ought to enact all the laws that either the neces i les or the wishes of the peoples demand. As we have said, all the required legislation could have been well done in thirty days, and thus at least $35,000 have been saved to the State. But it has come to pass that about two thirds of a session is spent in incorporating lodges, altering Battle's Revisal, passing bills about selling spirits near churches, and doing that sort of legislation that ought to be disposed of in with and be the tool of the Republican | two hours under an omnibus bill.

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DVSF FSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

)AIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with ax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant, The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, Lut cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLane's LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL. For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood.

Not one case of Scroffda, Syphilis, White Swelling, Ulcerot Sores and Skin Disease, in a thousand, is treated without the use of Mercury in some form. Mercury rots the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than any other kind of blood or skin disease can be. Washington Widows. Correspondence of the News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14,1879 Washington widows! What a theme! Widows have occupied a special and peculiar place among women and have exercised a potent influence on the thoughts and actions of men. But the Washington widow is sui generis. The gracious, graceless widow, who luxuriates on the cream of official life, can on'y be found in Washington. Not as the apricot upon the upper beugh is she-hers is the place low for Coughs and Colds. Warranted to down upon the trellised southern will For her the child timorous winds have nothing of delight, and if the sun's kisses drive her into retreat beneath the leaves, she makes a way for the warm rays to follow her and retires only that the salute may be the less conspicuous. She is not tender be cause unripe, but is tender with a mellow tenderness that tells of growth attained. She is all the more a dangerous character because she is troubled in no wise with doubts and pe plexities in her own mind. Coy she may or may not appear to be; capricious if caprice will serve her ends; cool, even, if by coolness she may win what she de sires; but these her modes are not as the like modes in maidens, referable to no right cause and all beyond calm reason's grave control; they may be weapons offensive and defensive, well understood, and used with a most cunning skill. There is nothing of uncertainty about either her attacks or her retreats. Among metoric maidens she is as a planet, a body fixed in space and acting in full accord with well-considered laws. It may be added she is far ahead of the planet in the matter of being able to keep to herself the laws by which her thoughts and actions are regulated and controlled. Anybody may study astronomy; almost anybody who studies astronomy long abough may arrive at a fair understanding of the elements and motions of the starsbut a whole lifetime may be devoted to the study of but a single Washington widow, and death may end the task before the first glimmer of light has come in to indicate in what manner the darkly mysterious problem may be solved.

With these profound reflections and Chairman Ackins' geodetic surveys struggling for the possession of our mental reservation, we espied a M. C. reclining gracefully on a lobby sofa ogling the galley.

Sure enough, there she was; her handsome, bewitching face wreathed in smiles; her laughing black eyes (phenomenal for it is not characteristic of black eyes to laugh) was playing hide sud seek' with the reclining 'Ah, excuse me, said the impartial interlocutor, you have met her?' "What, never?"

"Well, hardly ever."

Meteoric Stones Catalogued. Mr. Charles U. Shepard, of New Haven, Conn., writes to the Journal for further information concerning the alleged meteoric stone of recent notoriety, an expresses an earnest de-his large collection. Mr. Saepard has been informed of the facts, or rather of the want of the facts, in the case. His letter states that he has been for forty years a diligent student of meteorology, and that he has accumula-ted the largest collection of meteoric stones in the United States, if not in the world. He forwards a catalogue of his collection, showing the number of stones and the date and locality of their fall. The collection embraces over five hundred meteoric stones and meteoric irons. The total weight of the collection is about 1,200 pounds. The largest iron, procured from Colorado, weighs 438 pounds, and the smallest, from Otsego county, New York, weighs half an ounce. The largest entire stone, procured from Muskingum county, Ohio, weighs 56 pounds, and the small st one from Sweden, weighs less than fifty grains. The specimens have been gathered from all parts of the world. The catalogue begins with one which fell November 7, 1492, in Alsace, and ends with one which fell February 12, 1875, cratic Senators held a caucus this in Iowa county, Iowa. There are none morning. The subjects of discussion between 1492 and 1753, but most of between 1492 and 1753, but most of Nearly every country in were expressed as to the adversibility, the known world is represented in the list. The entire collection is in one of the buildings of Amherst College. Mr. Shepard makes one statement which will surprise most persons. He says: "There have been several instances of deaths occasioned by mete oric stons. Two monks in different places were thus killed in Italy, and two sailors on shipboard in Sweden."

The Death Rate of Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being ess-ned every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late, that a Fever or Lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill Ohe of the best places in the city is from a Doctor been avoided.
